

United States of America,
Plaintiff

CASE NO 12-CR-000517

v.

Jonathan Lee Riches, Defendant

Motion to Modify a condition of my Federal Supervised Release to be recognized as a Transgender Muslim Female, LGBT

Come now, the Defendant Jonathan Lee Riches a/k/a Joanna Leigh Riches, moves this honorable Court to modify a condition of my Federal Supervised Release when I am to be released from custody on May 10th, 2016 for the United States Probation Dept to recognize me as a transgender Muslim Female with transgender rights so I am not subjected to discrimination and humiliation from male probation officers, And I move for counsel to represent me on this sensitive issue, I was born a male, but I psychologically feel I am female, and I converted to Islam years ago. I am the 1st open transgender Muslim which will also subject me to persecution by the Muslim community, I also plan to go through the surgeries one day, but right now I am indigent and have no money, no money to pay my restitution, Right now I have to keep my transgender thoughts a secret in the way house because I am around violent Muslims who would discriminate and harass me, I File this Modification to be recognized as transgender now because this is extraordinary circumstances, because I have to report to Supervised Release within 72 hours and the male probation officer will subject me to taking a urine test in front of ~~me~~ ^{me} in a male bathroom which would violate my rights. I also don't feel comfortable for a male probation officer to touch me physically. Once on supervised release I don't want a male probation officer looking at my penis when I urinate and I have a constitutional right to be treated as a transgender muslim while on supervised release just like any other transgender. My appearance now is male in public, but I feel inside I am female. I wear makeup and women's clothes in my home. I also seek a modification to be allowed to legally change my name to Joanna Leigh Riches. In the alternative I seek a hearing on this matter for this modification with a federal public defender appointed to me immediately once released from federal custody or the right once I am released to re petition this court for the same modification once I am out. I have the LGBT community backing me on this sensitive issue. I pray this court will grant my motion for relief. I also have a right to a transgender bathroom in the probation Dept.

Respectfully
